VANDIVER & COLLINS, Pubs.
KEYTESVILLE, MISSOURI.

Now for a fair association.

County Recorder Smith is entertaining the

"Uncle Tom" Elliott attended divine service at Salisbury Sunday.

Call on Geo. M. Dewey & Co. for your cutlery. They keep the best.

Miss Bettie Moorman, of Brunswick, visited here the first of the week.

The Press-Spectator's "Intest advice to girls" is, "to pull down the blinds."

For all kinds of hardware go to Geo. M. Dewey & Co. They have a fine stock.

Wm. Ward and Miss Mary Furqua spent Sunday, with friends in the "Forks."

When you want nails remember that Geo. M. Dewey & Co. have them in abundance.

If in style you would be seen,

Buy your clothes of Rosenstein.

The dress of Mrs. Bessie, a Brunswick belle, was the guest of Miss Lucy Cook, the first of the week.

None of our citizens who have the means can afford not to take stock in a fair association.

Call on G. M. Dewey & Co., and see their line of cooking stoves which are the best on the market.

The colored folks will give a grand G. A. R. ball in Woodward's opera house, at Salisbury, to-night.

Horne Mann was in Moberly Monday. He says he went on business, but we have our doubts about "the business."

Geo. M. Dewey & Co. make their own tinware, and persons purchasing from them can be sure of getting the best.

When you want a good 5-cent smoke go to Agge & Bro. and ask for the American Exposition cigars. They are dandies.

Dr. A. F. Sneed, of Centuria, is in town this week visiting his son, H. L. Sneed. The doctor is in quite fine health.

Miss M. E. Davis, of Brunswick, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. A. F. Tooley, for several weeks, returned home Monday.

Ed. Holmes, who has been clerking in Sneed's drug and grocery store, for the past month, left for his home in Centuria Monday.

James Bell, who has been in Colorado for several years, returned to his old home, near Keytesville, the first of the week, looking as natural as life.

The government issued a proclamation, on an idle Tuesday morning, calling in straw hats and parasols. The thermometer stood 10° above zero.

A. W. Nickerson is in Salisbury on a week's furlough, and his cases in the COURIER office are being held by Chas. Williams, of Salisbury, during "Dad's" absence.

C. B. Ford, of Marcelline, was circulating among old Keytesville friends a day or two last week. "Cal" is running as extra freight train conductor on the Santa Fe.

Our fellowtownsman, Capt. R. M. Scott, has accepted an agency for the Louisiana, Mo., nurseries, one of the oldest, most reliable and best nurseries in the state.

It's nothing less than brass brags, for the Gallomores, just off the grass, with the knowing wink of a vulgar clown, to poke fun at folks "not used to town."

A party of Keytesville young folks attended a spelling match at the Whiteside school, taught by Miss Anne Grinstead, six miles south of town, on Friday night of last week.

The protracted meeting at Asbury Chapel, conducted by Rev. L. F. Lin, closed Saturday night on account of inclement weather. There were no conversions during the meeting.

C. B. Hyde, "the junior" of the Salisbury Democrat, was over Thursday, and looked as though he was flourishing on wind and promise and stove wood, since having become a journalist.

Mrs. Frank Silva, a winsome widow, of Merced, Cal., is visiting friends at Dalton. Her coming has brought a pleasing expression to the face of one of Dalton's good-looking bachelors.

T. P. Wood has awarded the contract to Messrs. Waugh & Allen, of Rothville, to build a new residence on his lot purchased of C. S. Smith. The weather will admit the house will be built this winter.

Hansmann & Beck are building a fermenting room, a boiler room and a 350-bbl. warehouse at their distillery. They are also erecting a new distilling plant and will feed about forty head of cattle this winter.

Prof. Coleman, the efficient principal of our public schools and excellent county school commissioner, attended the Bynumville institute last Saturday, and reports it a highly interesting and instructive affair.

We have just received a large stock of all kinds of glassware, which we have put upon the market at such low prices that glassware will move rapidly at our store.

AGGE & BRO.

The growth of the Salisbury institute demands more room, and an addition of 25x30 feet is now being attached to the main building. We are glad to note this indication of prosperity at Prof. Briggs' school.

Arch Carter, a good-looking bachelor stock dealer, of near town, sold twenty-two head of fat steers, averaging 1,410 pounds, the first of this week to Messrs. Dye & Edson, of Brunswick, at $4.75 a hundred.

The negroes had a baptizing at Hammer bridge last Sunday at which the ordinance of baptism was administered to twenty-two converts the fruit of Rev. David Sawyer's recent protracted meeting at Dalton.

We have just received a large stock of all kinds of glassware, which we have put upon the market at such low prices that glassware will move rapidly at our store.

AGGE & BRO.

Reubin Strother and Tom Agge, two Dalton negroes, engaged in a "scrap," at Dalton, Tuesday night. Agge used his knife on Strother, but no serious results are expected. The knife closed on Agge's hand and inflicted a painful cut. No arrests.

A mass-meeting of our citizens will be held at the opera house in the near future to arrange preliminary towards organizing a fair association. Appoint yourself a committee of one to attend the meeting and see that you are there.

C. B. Scott, as surviving partner and administrator of the firm of Scott & Parks, brought suit in Squire Ewing's court Monday against some four or five parties to recover judgment, either on note or account, the late firm of Scott & Parks. None of the defendants appeared in court, and plaintiff's judgment in each case for the cost and interest was entered.

It may seem a little early to talk about a fair association at Keytesville for next fall, but the early bird gets the worm. Keytesville cannot afford to let her air go down, and the way to keep it up is to organize the fair into an association.

Kirtly Venable and family, of near Dalton, moved back to their farm the latter part of last week, after a residence of two weeks in the capital. Mr. Venable found the undertaking more arduous than he imagined it would be, running his farm some five miles distant from where his wife and children resided, and farm life was too lonesome and unbearable without one, so a happy union of the family circle is again gathered around the hearthstone of their old country home.

For the benefit of the stupid animals that provide over the destinies of the Press-Spectator we will say that Keytesville has twenty-four stores in which there is no post-office. She has the twenty-fifth store in which the post-office is kept, and that shortly will be made a presidential office, which will prove another cause for the P.-S.'s liver getting out of order. There are two stores in this county, one is Keytesville township and the other in Missouri township, at which there is no post-office. The fact remains, according to the editorial license statements, that Keytesville has the largest and Salisbury the smallest stock of goods of any mercantile firms in Chariton county—still more so to be sprinkled on the chaffed cuticle of the P.-S. menagerie.

Married.

MONTGOMERY-KINKADE—At the residence of the bride's parents in Madison township, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 11th, Mr. William Montgomery and Miss Edith Kinkade. Their matrimonial bark was launched by Rev. W. G. Barker, of Brunswick.

CHAPMAN-ELLIOTT—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Elliott, a half mile east of Keytesville on Wednesday evening, Nov. 11th, Mr. C. A. Chapman and Miss Ardenia B. Elliott, were joined in matrimonial bonds. The marriage ceremony was beautifully and impressively performed by Rev. J. Edwin Norvell.

After the usual congratulations were extended a sumptuous supper was served in honor of the nuptial event.

The good cheer of the evening was kept up until a late hour, when Mr. Chapman and his bride repaired to their pleasant new home, which had just been completed, and to which they were followed by the good wishes of their friends.

The bride is one of the best and most highly respected families in Chariton county, while the bridegroom is also of an excellent family, and is a prominent young business man, being engaged in the harness and boot shoe business in Keytesville.

The couple desire to be remembered among Mr. and Mrs. Chapman's well-wishes for their success and happiness in their partnership into which they had just entered.

They were the recipients of quite a number of elegant presents, we understand, but we were not furnished with a list for publication.

Fatally Burned.

A 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown, col., of Missouri township, was putting some wood in the stove last Friday, when his clothing caught fire, resulting in his being so badly burned that he died Saturday night. The little fellow's sufferings were intense.

Millinery at Cost.

For the next thirty days Mrs. C. P. Vandiver will offer millinery at cost. The season is advanced, and we have no room for left-over goods, hence our fall and winter stock must be sold in order to make room for spring goods.

Call early and get choice as my present stock of goods will be sold at prices that will move it quickly.

Teachers' Institute.

The Chariton county teachers' institute will convene at Keytesville, on Friday, Nov. 27th, for a two days' session. School Com. Coleman has arranged with the various school boards of the county for teachers to be absent from their schools on Friday, so that they can come to the institute. No excuse for non-attendance, except that of illness, will be valid.

On Friday night a literary and musical entertainment will be given, to which a small admission fee will be charged, for the benefit of the Keytesville public school library.

Both the institute held and the entertainment given at the court-house.

Death of T. J. Shands.

Thos. J. Shands died of consumption at the residence of his brother-in-law, H. F. Moorman, five miles northwest of Keytesville, at 10 o'clock Monday night.

The deceased was in his 40th year and was an upright member of the M. E. Church, South. He was a native of Virginia, but came with his parents to Missouri when a small boy. He had his lamp trimmed and burning to light him to a better world, and was perfectly resigned to death.

He was conscious up to the time he breathed his last, and gave directions as to the disposition of his business affairs, his funeral services and his burying place.

In accordance with his request his funeral was preached by Rev. L. F. Lin, the Methodist pastor, at Mr. Moorman's residence, after which his remains were interred in the Mt. Pleasant cemetery, near Guthrie Mills. Peace to his ashes, and life everlasting to his immortal spirit.

The Talmage Case.

The case of the state of Missouri vs. Jas. C. Talmage for killing C. P. Tidd, night telegraph operator, at Brunswick, was argued in the supreme court Monday.

Defendant's attorneys have strong hopes of securing a reversal of the lower court.

The decision of the supreme court will be handed down some time next month.

The crime of which Talmage is accused was committed in January, 1888. The case first went to trial in Oct., 1888, and resulted in defendant's being sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty-one years. A motion for a new trial by Talmage's attorneys was subsequently sustained, and the case was next tried in Oct., 1889, when it terminated again in a verdict of guilty and the sentencing of defendant to the penitentiary for ten years.

A motion for a new trial was again made, but was overruled. An appeal was taken to the supreme court, and has been awaiting the action of that body for more than two years, while it has been nearly four years since Talmage met his death at Talmage's hands.

Verily the mills of justice, like the mills of the gods, grind slowly.

He Used the Rod.

On Monday Prof. R. J. Vivian, principal of the Keytesville colored public school, had some trouble with Minnie Jackson, a 16-year-old pupil in his room, over working an example she could not explain.

The girl talked saucy and the professor permitted his angry passions to rise and whipped Minnie perhaps severer than he intended. Her back and one of her arms were badly lacerated with the switch used, and much sympathy was evinced in her behalf.

Allen Jackson, the girl's father, had Vivian arrested on a charge of assault. He was arraigned before Squire Ewing Tuesday afternoon and tried by a jury, which failed to agree after balloting for more than an hour. Three were for acquittal and three for conviction.

The penalty in such cases ranges all the way from a fine of $1 to $100 and costs, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The case came up for trial again yesterday morning, the jury again failing to agree, standing four for acquittal and two for conviction. The case will be tried again Saturday.

Don't fail to see that nobby line of clothing at Rosenstein's, Brunswick. "Rosey's" line of clothing is nothing if not stylish, and he always has the latest that the market affords or money will buy.

Prof. Purinton at Piedmont.

The St. Louis Journal of Education, in speaking of the graduating exercises of the high school at Piedmont, pays Prof. Purinton this compliment:

Prof. Purinton, of the state university, made the address to the graduating class. It was full of wisdom and tender sympathy—strong, eloquent and classical—holding the closest attention of all present, and delighting alike the members of the class and the large audience.
